Narrow Escape In Auto Accident

Hired Operatives Are Discredited By Jury In Liquor Case

Fire District Election Is Again Contemplated By Citizens

SONOMA PEOPLE ON JURY WHICH ACQUITS McGOVERN

Amateur Detectives Get Tangled In Testimony Against Petaluma Man; Jury Refuses to Convict.

A jury, in the Frank McGovern case growing out of an alleged sale of liquor in Petaluma to two itinerant detectives, acquitted McGovern, the accused, Wednesday, and as an aftermath District Attorney Hoyle dismissed a similar charge pending against Orvie McCree, also of Petaluuma, because he believed he could not get a conviction.

The testimony in both cases was characterized as "boughten," the complaining witnesses having been hired by the city of Petaluma to entrap suspected violators of the prohibition laws into selling them liquor. Merle and Ben May of Yolo county were paid $9.00 a day to "get the goods" on McGovern and others. McGovern was subsequently arrested, the Mays claiming that they had been sold liquor and offering in evidence a bottle of whiskey. At the trial the men gave various versions of the purchase, their testimony conflicting with that given at the preliminary hearing and also not dove-tailing with that of Police Chief Mike Flohr. Some technical discrepancies were also taken into account by the jury which, after some deliberation, acquitted the defendant.

On the jury of three women and nine men were four Sonoma people—Mr. and Mrs. Jack Murray, Richard C. Specht and Shirley Weise.

NATIVES HONOR THE BEAR FLAG PARTY

Sonoma Parlors of Native Sons and Native Daughters of the Golden West paid tribute to the pioneers of the Bear Flag Party last Saturday when they observed Flag Day by placing a wreath of flowers on the monument in the Plaza. The wreath was of golden flowers, a typical California emblem, and was placed with suitable ceremonies as is the annual custom.

The monument, erected b the Parlors of the state, is now surrounded by green lawn put in by the local Native Sons the past year at a cost of over $1600.

BLOOD POISONING FOLLOWS SPIDER BITE

Miss Catherine Laurenzi of San Francisco is recovering from an operation which followed a severe case of blood poisoning caused by a spider bite. The insect bit Miss Laurenzi on the leg and alarming symptoms soon developed. Home remedies failed to kill the poison and the victim of the spider was in a serious condition when a physician was finally summoned. The young lady is now out of danger, whcih will be good news to many Sonoma friends.

The recital of Hutchins, "the bird man," will be on Wednesday, June 25th, instead of as announced.

What Will Be Population Of Sonoma In 1954

An interesting query is being made by City Engineer Specht who wants to know what Sonoma's population will be in 1954. Specht is planning a city sewer system and wishes to provide for the future. The system as contemplated will take care of 5000 inhabitants which is estimated the outside figure of growth during the term of the 30 year bond issue by which it is planned to finance the improvement. Sonoma's present population is about 1000.

MISS JENSEN TO WED HARRY F. BURMESTER

Former Sonoma High School Teacher to be Bride of Young Business Man of Oakland.

Announcement cards have been received telling the happy news of the betrothal of Miss Edna Caren Jensen, former teacher of Domestic Science in the Sonoma High School, and Harry Frederick Burmester of the R. G. Dunn & Company Mercantile Agency of Oakland. The bride-to-be is a talented girl, a graduate of the University of California and since leaving Sonoma has been teaching in the San Rafael High School. While in Sonoma she resided at the former Clewe home with her mother and made many friends during her residence here. Since tendering her resignation at San Rafael she has been living with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Jensen, near Berkeley. She is a gifted singer, of a blonde type of athletic beauty and is a tennis devotee. In fact, it was on the court that the romance which has ended in her engagement to Mr. Burmester, began.

The fortunate young man who has won the charming teacher is a son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Burmester of El Verano and has already made remarkable advancement in the business world. After graduating from the high school and attending the University of the Pacific and University of California, he went into the office of Dunn & Company in the first National Bank building, Oakland, and he is now one of the valued members of that organization. He has been prominent in social and fraternal circles, is a De Molay and lover of outdoor sports.

The happy couple will be entertained over the week end at the Burmester home here and later Mrs. Burmester of El Verano plans a shower for her lovely daughter-in-law to-be.

Families on both sides are much pleased with the betrothal and are looking forward to the early autumn wedding which will unite the popular young people.

WILL GO TO EUROPE

Mrs. William Camp and her eldest daughter, Miss Elsie Camp, of San Francisco, expect to leave here shortly for a four months' trip to Germany. The Camps have a country home at Buena Vista.

Mother and Children Are Injured When S. F. Motorist Hits Car Near Napa

Mrs. William Church and family of Schellville had a narrow escape from death last Saturday afternoon while driving home from a fishing trip when a big touring car hit their Ford near the Carneros crossroads.

Little Miss Helen Church was driving the car and was making the turn toward home when a Marmon car, driven by a San Francisco man named Reese, rounded the curve on the wrong side of the road and struck the Church car full force. The impact completely wrecked the Ford, threw the children out and imprisoned Mrs. Church. The girl driver was thrown from her seat and badly bruised. Mrs. Church was cut by glass from the windshield and her little son, Willie, was also cut.

Mr. Church and a party of friends who were following in another car, heard the crash and rushing to the aid of the injured, brought them home where Dr. Thomson was summoned. The physician found it necessary to take several stitches in Mrs. Church's leg and also sew up a bad wound in the forehead of her son. The patients are now resting easy, but Mrs. Church is still confined to her bed.

Reese, the owner of the Marmon, is said to have been traveling at a speed of 45 miles an hour. He stopped and gave his name to the injured and explained the accident by saying that the little girl (driver of the car) got rattled. Miss Church is an experienced driver and declares that had Reese been on the right side of the road, the accident would not have occurred.

Golf Club Taken Over By San Francisco Man

Fred F. Partridge Buys Former Bigelow Ranch; Has Plans for Magnificent Country Club and Golf Links.

Announcement is made of the closing of a deal whereby Fred F. Partridge of San Francisco has purchased the former Bigelow ranch of 238 acres near El Verano from the Golf Club of which Frank M. Burris has been president.

It is Mr. Partridge's intention to make these golf links among the finest in California. Eighteen holes will be put in at once. The beautiful residence will be utilized immediately for the early summer guests and is to be remodeled, enlarged and handsomely furnished.

Mr. Partridge is well known here where for some years he has owned a beautiful country home. He and his colleagues are enthusiastic over this Valley as a recreation center and confident of its future, now that we have the new state highway. He will retain the name, Valley of the Moon Golf and Country Club, and expect to bring hundreds of San Francisco and east bay guests here for vacations and week end trips.

The property purchased by the San Franciscan is beautifully located in the foothills and its sloping and wooded area make it ideal. The residence, lawn and gardens will be the nucleus for the big resort which will be supplemented by other improvements planned by the new purchasers of the property.

It is understood that the local golf club has made a profitable sale and that members welcome playing on the greens contemplated by the new owners, who will expend much more money on the links than the club, with its limited membership, could afford.

SONOMA NOW SECOND CLASS POST OFFICE

The Sonoma post office is to be raised from a third to second class office July 1st, according to an official announcement received by Postmaster Stofen. The growth of business of the local office is responsible for the advanced rating, according to which the postmaster will receive $2300 per year salary and have her assistants' salary paid by the government. Heretofore Miss Stofen was allowed only $900 per year for a clerk and had to make up the difference paid the assistant. In addition she hired a second helper entirely out of her own salary.

No further clerks are contemplated but the postmaster will be relieved of paying them. They will be under civil service rules from now on, which will permit them to work only eight hours in ten. As the train schedules here are not the best, the eight hour shifts may affect the service to the disadvantage of patrons of the post office unless train service improves.

FOURTEEN MOTORISTS NABBED FOR SPEEDING

Fourteen alleged traffic violators, most of them speeders, were nabbed by city traffic officers here Sunday. A complete list of those cited to appear before Judge Small included the following:

Luis Kron, Los Angeles, Max F. Robinson, San Francisco; J. B. Casserly, Oakland; T. J. Duprey, Oawland; C. A. Lommel, Napa; Homer B. Percy, Vallejo; E. Case, Napa; Albert Seehuber, Sonoma; Oscar Lehnus, Oakland; George Boekly, San Francisco; F. A. Guados, Sausalito; J. I. Curran, San Francisco; Rudolph De Martini, San Francisco; M. F. Fairbanks, San Francisco;

PICNIC WAS SUCCESS

The picnic given last Sunday by the local Redmen at Schumanns Gardens for the benefit of German children, netted a substantial sum for the fund which is being aided by lodges all over the United States.

We'll Say He Is Lucky Duck, Wins 60 Bucks

Angelo De Martini, popular Native Son, bought a ticket from a San Francisco Parlor of Native Sons last week and won $60. He took the chance along with 10 other Sonoma Native Sons who wanted to help the Rincon Parlor, and this week got word that he held the winning number which entitled him to a merchandise order or the $60 in cash. The boys, who formerly called Angelo "Duck" now call him "Lucky Duck."

SPRINGS DISTRICT ASKS ADEQUATE FIRE PROTECTION

Mass Meeting Call Results In Plan to Form Flowery Fire District; Commissioners Named.

Realizing the need of fire protection and money to assure the maintenance of the fire engines and a department at the Springs, the people of that section met last Monday evening and decided to circulate a petition authorizing the formation of the Flowery School Fire District and naming three commissioners whose names will be submitted to the electors as the men who will have authority to carry out the work of safeguarding the district if the election carries. The commissioners designated are J. P. Serres, James Post and S. Rosenthal. It is planned to raise $1270 annually by special tax in the district, the cost to each property owner being very slight This amount will maintain the department with a night and day man at the fire house. Benefit entertainments are planned to clear off the balance of indebtedness on the present apparatus.

The failure of a previous election for a fire district was blamed to the inclusion of too large a territory, the necessity for too large a sum of money and insufficient knowledge of the scope of work intended.

Property owners from Caliente to Boyes Springs, however, realize the absolute necessity of dependable fire protection, continued to clamor for

ANOTHER TEACHER FOR HIGH SCHOOL

Trustees of the Sonoma Valley Union High School have engaged J. W. Benton to teach auto mechanics and practical electricity in the high school the coming year. Mr. Benton has taught the machine trades for the past 10 years. In training and experience he is thoroughly prepared and will, without doubt, organize a splendid course in the local school.

Mr. Benton has also had experience as a carpenter and builder and will be a valuable man to organize and reconstruct the buildings used for farm mechanics. The school is fortunate in securing a man, who, in addition to being an experienced machinist, also holds a B. A. degree.

Mr. Benton will bring with him his wife and two children.

NOTED WRITERS WERE VISITORS HERE

Charles Caldwell Dobie, the distinguished California writer of books and short stories, accompanied by his friend, Frank Mulgrew, of San Francisco, were recent visitors at Lachryma Montis, the old Vallejo home. Dobie was here in quest of material for a new book. Mulgrew, whose father was a former sheriff of Sonoma county, is the intimate of many literary men and is himself a newspaper and publicity writer well known in journalistic circles of the bay cities.

EL VERANO NEWS

By ARCHIBALD McKIVER

Jensen Pleads Guilty to Shooting of Goat

El Verano was well represented at the Sonoma court house Monday when the Cavaglia versus Mouyer, and the famous goat case was called. Judge Justi of Glen Ellen presided. Attorney Grinstead of Sonoma represented the Mouyers, while Attorney Sprague represented Cavaglia. Mrs. Mouyer was suing for $82 which she claims Cavaglia owes her for the keeping of his daughter. After an hour of debating and examining witnesses, the Judge took the case under advisement for one week.

Then came the goat case. Jensen, several weeks ago, was bothered by the long horned animals, which, he claims, were trespassing on his premises and destroying his plants and trees. Grinstead appeared for Jensen, while Sprague appeared for Basileu, the plaintiff. Several witnesses were cross examined on both sides by the barristers, Mr. Basileu telling the court that the wandering goats were herded by his boys after school hours and that they fed only in picked places. The Judge told the plaintiff that he also owned a goat, which, if allowed the slightest opportunity, was over in the neighbors' yards, and that he only wished his be-whiskered animal was like Mr. Basileu's. As the village barber was relating the story of the raising of the little goat by his wife, who valued it as a pet, Mrs. Basileu burst into tears, causing a scene which touched the hearts of all in the court room.

Grinstead then told of the great care Mrs. Jensen had taken of her garden, and summing up both sides of the case stated that her loss was much greater than that of Mrs. Basileu. Then Attorney Sprague made his closing argument. Judge Justi, after giving both gentlemen in the case some fatherly advice, suspended the case. Jensen alleges he did not shoot to hit the goat, but to scare her and her family away.

The item in the Index-Tribune of last Saturday stating that the cucumber patch here was benig abandoned owing to water shortage, was an error. Biscioni Brothers, who are working the land with a crew of men, are busy daily irrigating the plants, which look fine, and there is no doubt that a large crop will be harvested. Already the cucumbers are forming to a nice size pickle and are nearly ready for the vinegar barrel at a Santa Rosa packing plant.

Walter Paulson of San Francisco was here Monday and states that he will soon open a meat market at Valencia and Eighteenth streets, in that city. Paulsen formerly was a Sonoma butcher and his many friends wish him success.

Joe Kearney was a Saturday afternoon passenger for Oakland.

Sergeant Maloney of the San Francisco police department, was a week end visitor with relatives in El Verano.

Miss Della Dati, a charming, winsome young lady of San Francisco, was a week end visitor at the Dati home on Railroad avenue.

Mrs. N. Venton of Oakland was a visitor at the Andrews home for several days recently.

Norman and Arthur Baines, realty dealers of Los Angeles, are here renewing acquaintances and visiting relatives. They motored up from the southern city.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Gray of Petaluma are residing at the Harper home, Mr. Gray having accepted a position at the El Verano Meat Market.

Charles Spindler, insurance man of San Francisco, was a guest at Steinkamp's Resort, Sonoma Vista, over Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Little of San Francisco spent Sunday here with Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Beach. Mrs. Little is a daughter.

Mrs J. N. Beach was in San Francisco last week shopping. The Beaches lost everything in the fire of last week but will rebuild at once. This is the second home that has burned to the ground in a few months, but as they like the valley, they intend to rebuild on the Sonoma Vista site. Contractor Fish is doing the work.

Mrs. M. F. Mullen returned from San Francisco Monday evening, having been the guest of her daughter over the week end.

The El Verano Grammar School closed Friday for the summer vacation. Miss Baker will spend the holidays in San Francisco, while Miss Jackson will return to her home in Napa.

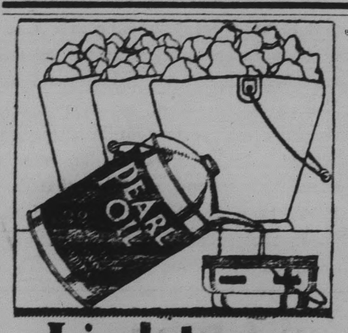

Last Friday a number of ladies from San Francisco, members of a lodge to which Mrs. Jensen belongs, motored up to her beautiful residence and enjoyed the day. The party had a wonderful time, enjoying the hospitality of the Jensen home and a drive thru the scenic and famous Valley of the Moon. Among those present wert Mesdames W. Axford, W. Alden, A. Anderson, L. Nielsen, W. Axford, Jr., H. F. Schwab, W. Smith and Fred Thompson. Mah Jongg was played and several beautiful prizes awarded. The occasion was a surprise to Mrs. Jensen in honor of her birthday.

Miss Florence Blake, Mr. and Mrs. G. Fredrickson and Miss Fredrickson, after spending several days in Sacramento, are here to spend a several weeks' vacation at their summer home during which time Miss Madeline will entertain many bay city friends.

J. Harrington, father of Section Foreman Harrington of Schellville, after a several months' visit with his son at Schellville, left for Kalamazoo, Mich., last Sunday.

Miss Irene Dowdall returned Saturday from a visit with bay city relativts and friends. Her sister, Miss

ZEROLENE helps win the PACKARD CONTEST

In 1922 the City Motor Trucking Company of Portland, Oregon, won the Packard's low upkeep contest in the State of Oregon with its 4-ton Packard No. 180-590. During the period of this contest Zerolene oil was used exclusively, and the Company writes us as follows:

"In consequence of our success in this contest, and because of our uniform satisfaction with the use of Zerolene in all other equipment, we naturally consider Zerolene as an absolutely dependable and correct lubricant. We most cheerfully recommend it to any and all truck operators to receive real efficiency in lubricating oils."

It is records like these that month after month and year after year are cutting the ground from under the superstition that there is something mysteriously "better" about eastern oils, just because they cost more.

Zerolene sales have increased sevenfold in seven years. The more experienced the motorist, the more likely he is to discover that the Zerolene-lubricated car delivers better gasoline mileage, accumulates less carbon, costs less for upkeep, and has a longer working life.

Why pay tribute to a superstition? Insist on Zerolene—a better oil—even if it does cost less.

SURPRISE PARTY TURNED ON THE SURPRISERS

Mr. Editor:

A party of about 30 people gathered Saturday evening at 8:15 o'clock in Mr. McGuire's home to give a surprise party to their neighbor, Howard Ford, Schellville Chicken Colony's mayor and world famous poultry wizard. But Mr. Ford surely turned the tables on the surprisers, when, after welcoming the party and thanking them for their birthday congratulations, he calmly announced his marriage to Mrs. Perry the day previous in Napa. Congratulations were then in order.

All present had the surprise of their life, especially Mrs. Robinson, who had planned the surprise party and found herself the most surprised party of all.

But this did not end all surprises yet. Charles Peach, successful poultry man in Schellville, father of Congressman Britten, wet leader at Washington, was also celebrating his birthday, and so was Mr. Ford's married daughter, who was present.

Ice cream and cake in abundance were served and all enjoyed a glorious time.

Among those present were Mrs. Robinson and relatives from San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. John Farber, Charles Peach and sister, Mrs. Volheim; Mr. and Mrs. Taber, Mrs. Richardson, Miss Ethel Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Hinman and her sister, Mrs. Carscadden and two sons, Mr. and Mrs. Dubrost, Mr. Hall, Mr. McGuire and Mr. Ford's relatives.

JOHN FARBER.

ADMIT PROHIBITION PROBLEM

The big newspapers, particularly those of Hearst, have had their ears to the ground, and quite evidently find that prohibition is not a problem finally settled, by any means, wherefore they are giving the subject the airing to which it is entitled, instead of smothering it and implying its final solution, as formerly.

We find in last Sunday's "Examiner" a Brisbane paragraph bristling with fairness on the subject. Brisbane says:

"Prohibitionists of New York, through their spokesmen, say they scent a plot to nominate a 'wet' in the Democratic convention. What of it? It is no crime in the United States to say or vote what you think. If the Democrats want to nominate a 'wet' let them. Then let the people decide whether they want a 'wet' or a 'dry.' It would be an interesting fight, and incidentally it would bring out some William Jennings Bryan oratorical fireworks worth hearing."

Bryan's theoretical brilliance which never got him anywhere, might sway some of the powers-to-be into more emotional foolishness and quite likely would have its effect upon the type of voter who looks no farther than his nose as his ear is soothed by some spellbinder, or his hide jarred loose by some Billy Sunday. The silent vote of the country, however, is rather influenced by such conservative, yet startling statements as made by the Right Honorable the Earl of Birkenhead, P. C., former Solicitor-General and Attorney-General of England, who writes of prohibition is Hearst's Sunday news feature section as follows:

"Has or has not prohibition expelled alcohol from the United States? The answer is notorious. It unquestionably has not.

"The real truth is that when you have a population of nearly one hundred millions, of whom at least some millions desire to enjoy a form of refreshment which is exhilarating, and which many people have enjoyed since the dawn of the world; when that country has thousands of miles of land boundary and when it is additionally handicapped by having more thousands of miles of maritime access; when the trade is profitable beyond the dreams of avarice, no government, however resolute, however wealthy, however equipped, could ever enforce such an exclusion.

"What inferences ought to be drawn from a failure which I have attempted to establish and shall hereafter venture to assume, upon the moral aims attempted?

"There exist some country districts and some unsophisticated towns in which the difficulty of obtaining alcohol has no doubt effectively ended the alcohol habit. In such places it is no doubt true that the new generation will grow up screened, as long as it dwells where it was born, from a penetrating temptation which strong men have generally resisted, but before which weaklings have succumbed.

"It may be conceded that this gain—so far as it is a gain—may be set plainly upon one side of the account. And let it equally be conceded that an inference of greater sobriety among the working classes may be drawn from the fuller attendance which the wage sheets in industrial concerns disclose on Monday mornings.

"Let it be admitted further that the savings bank deposits have increased in the period under consideration (although indeed the growing prosperity of the whole country affords in itself no small explanation of such an increase). Yet there remains a powerful number of overwhelming considerations upon the other side.

"The American nation has in the main always been admirably law-abiding. The framers of their Constitution and their high judges perceived with unswerving clearness of vision that respect for law is the very foundation of civilization. But a nation cannot respect the law in streaks, for the law is one majestic whole.

Those who forced prohibition upon the American people did it with the full knowledge that millions of their fellow countrymen would repel it is a tyrannous injustice. What is the consequence?

"In every large city the law is openly violated. Citizens of the highest consequence, who have never violated any other law, openly and even smilingly admit that they recognize no obligation under this law. Many restaurants in large cities place alcohol upon their tables with the same openness as is to be observed in London restaurants.

"Men and women of the highest position openly use the expression 'my bootlegger.' It is, indeed, a notorious fact that the exports of Scotch whisky from one great English house to the United States of America have actually increased since the adoption of prohibition.

"Surely the results so far as they have emerged from this experiment justify the conclusion that where one is dealing with self-regulating actions, the only moral conquests which are either valuable or attainable are those which are gained upon conscience through conviction; and that a law which intolerantly imposes upon adult citizens an abstinence which they dislike by proscriptions which they consider tyrannous can never effect a permanent improvement in the morals of humans."

The "Examiner" writer does not predict that we will have modification for he believes no political party wants to shoulder the issue, a controversy which would provoke heated debate and secretly align bootleggers and reformers against the political party espousing modification. The Earl of Birkenhead therefore believes the United States of America will continue dry, as is.

We do not agree that our country will always submit to the present farce, or that England will see us content in our hypocrisy, as Lord Birkenhear predicts. California is strong in the belief that the change of the Volstead Act will throw an overwhelming number of satisfied citizens on the side of the law as modified, who will array themselves against rum smugglers, bootleggers and moonshiners instead of as now sitting passively by or openly resenting the drastic and impudent interdictment such as the people of no other nation is expected to subscribe to. How this sentiment can be changed and translated into constructive good citizenship is a problem worthy of the thought of our keenest statesmen, as well as all real advocates of temperance and good government. The ardent, unmitigating, unrelenting fanatic who cries out for more law, more police and troops if need be, in order to police the United States into abstinence from liquor is allying himself not only with the secret booze traffic, now rolling in wealth, but with the radical who whets his apetite on internal disruption and unrest.

The real friends of America admit the necessity of changing the prohibition laws.

They are paving the way for our future now that cement is being poured on Broadway. Join the Chamber of Commerce and speed up some of the opportunities which all California communities are bound to get if they are go-getters. "A Chamber of Commerce furthers principles and not individuals. It believes that the best interests of the valley are served by united action after the fullest and most deliberate consideration is given to the idea presented. It holds high the ideal of service to the community"

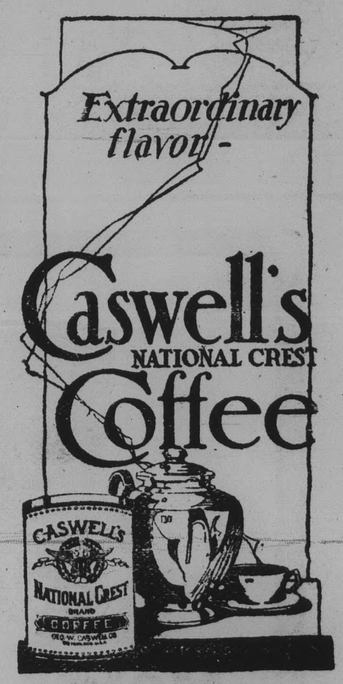

The Coolidge-Dawes presidential ticket makes a good business ticket for the Republicans to offer and when business is good we all prosper. The team combines conservative, cool deliberation and accomplishment, which is more than can be said of the whole Congressional outfit, which recently adjourned.

The turning point in Sonoma's future—the new incubator. Let's start to build that factory.

FIRE DISTRICT ELECTION IS AGAIN CONTEMPLATED

protection and now feel that the Flowery Fire District will be authorized.

The fire protection situation has been critical ever since the resignation of Chief Cause, who for several years past had the unique distinction of heading a voluntary fire department for which he solicited all assistance, paying off the major indebtedness on two chemical engines and maintaining himself at the same time. Chief Cause suffered a bad heart attack and had to retire. Those who sought to carry on his work quickly saw that it was an uphill matter to which no other individual would lend either time nor personal appeal; that something would have to be done to assure a paid fire department day and night. The formation of the new district is held to be the logical solution of the problem.

While it will give Sonoma Valley as a whole only limited fire protection the Springs section commissioners, co-operating with Chief Valente of Sonoma and deputy fire wardens of the valley can be of great help in educating the public to reduce fire hazards by warning against the use of fireworks, careless smoking and the starting of fires without permit.

The greatest care is urged by the authorities over the dry season and in cases where fire starts and any carelessness is proven the severest penalties will be dealt out.

SCHELLVILLE NEWS

Joe Keiser, Jr., has purchased a real kar, which he has named "Henrietta," it having been manufactured by Henry Ford.

Sam Shainsky is the busiest man down here, making several trips to San Francisco and Vallejo each week. And he never travels without one or more chickens.

The Methodist Ladies' Aid met at the home of their president, Mrs. M. Akers Thursday afternoon and as usual the members and their friends had a most enjoyable time.

Erhard Steiger and family spent Wednesday evening in Petaluma.

Miss Emily Kearney and nephew, James Kearney drove through here on Friday evening enroute to Napa where they attended the theatre.

The following Schellville folks enjoyed the photoplay, "Girl Shy," at the Hippodrome Theatre, in Napa, this week: Mr. and Mrs. C. Potter, Mr. and Mrs. H. Pauli, Mr. and Mrs. R. Watt, Mrs. G. Lowell, Mrs. E. Clements, Mrs. E. Steiger and Miss Evelyn, Miss Lenore Clements and Miss Virginia Lowell.

Mrs. J. Hoegemann is home after a pleasant visit with San Francisco friends.

Mrs. S. Keller of Napa spent Tuesday here with her mother.

Farmers here are about through thinning apples. I don't believe the apple was the means of bringing all the trouble and sin into the world. It was just a green pear (pair).

Mr. and Mrs. David Potter left for their Vallejo home Sunday after a pleasant vacation with relatives.

Mrs. Fred Schell entertained the Jolly Twelve Club at her hospitable home Wednesday afternoon. Dainty refreshments were served.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Tyson of San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Whitton and son of Healdsburg and Mrs. S. Keller of Napa spent Sunday with Mrs. Sarah Gillham.

Mr. and Mrs. Mont Akers had a visit Sunday from relatives residing in the Egg City.

J. Hoegemann entertained his brother and family of Oakland Sunday.

John Wagner, boss carpenter on the state highway, contemplates moving into his new home shortly.

Vic Clements has accepted the position of assistant manager in this district for the Williams Fruit Co.

Tony Keiser, John Yenni, Jr., and Tony Marcucci left Tuesday for a visit with James Kehoe at Point Reyes. They will spend the week fishing and Keiser says he expects to catch something besides a bad cold. Seeing is believing. Pass 'em around, Tony.

Dear Archie McKiver: Yes, I do remember those good old hay rides, and do you remember the driver whom I vamped? I can't forget the way my hand misbehaved when I was around that barrel of cookies. You never thought that of me, but an open confession, they say, is good for the soul. Say, Archie, I have a friend down this way—a bachelor girl, fair, fat and forty—who is looking for a life partner. The lucky man must be good looking, of medium height, but with plenty of do-re-me. How about you, old sport? She seems to like El-Verano for a permanent location.

Mrs. Will Downey motored to Santo Rosa Sunday to visit her dad who is ill at the General Hospital. She was accompanied by Mrs. E. Peterson and Mrs. W. Wilson and little son.

Mrs. Charles Beach, a former resident, now living in Redwood City, spent a few days recently with her friend, Mrs. A. Silva, Sr.

Mrs. P. Bosch has had electricity installed in her home and is now enjoying the use of an electric range and other appliances.

Mrs. P. Bosch will leave shortly for San Francisco to visit her daughter, Mae, and husband, who have recently returned from a pleasant vacation in Chicago and other Eastern cities.

Mrs. O. M. Small of Glen Ellen, a sister of S. Keller, is companion to Mrs. Sarah Gillham, mother of Mrs. Keller.

This is a "bird" of a place, especially in cherry season; but being bird pecked isn't near so bad as being hen-pecked.

Miss Josephine Silva is in Oakland visiting relatives.

Mrs. A. Silva, Sr., now has 40 canary birds, of which she is quite proud.

Mrs. Harvey Parrish, nee Laura Silva, is home from a month's visit with Oakland relatives.

Orlin and Clover Lucille Peterson are visiting relatives in Oakland.

A good many of the boys, accompanied by wife or sweetheart, wore a 12-inch smile and had a good time at the Y. L. I. card party Wednesday night.

Walter Harmon of San Francisco visited at the R. Watt and E. Steiger homes on Sunday.

Miss Mildred Erickson, Miss Marie Anderson, and Ralph and Andrew Anderson picniced at Guerneville on last Sunday.

Harry McLane, local shiek, spent Sunday at Beltane.

AGUA CALIENTE SPRINGS ADVERTISES ADVANTAGES

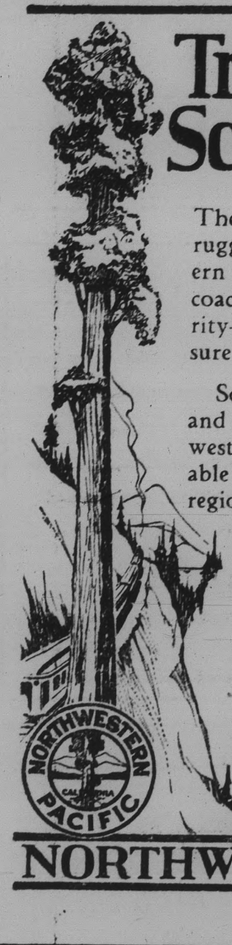

Agua Caliente Springs has a half-page display advertisement on Page Seven of this issue of the Index-Tribune, the proprietor of the Springs, T. H. Corcoran, realizing that everyone interested in Sonoma Valley reads this newspaper. He sends a message to our thousand readers and o those who pass along their paper to others, telling of the advantages the famous springs have to offer. The natural mineral water plunge is pictured in the illustration, the type of baths described and the professional masseur service available at Caliente is set forth.

The swimming tank and tub baths are becoming more popular each year. Mr. Corcoran predicts a fine season and has many reservations at the big hotel for the next few months.

JAMES KEARNEY NEW PRESIDENT OF CLUB

The regular meeting of the Sonoma Valley Improvement Club took place June 17th, the special occasion being election of officers for the coming year. A large attendance was on hand and the following officers elected:

James Kearney, president.
L. L. Jones, vice president.
A. Elliot, financial secretary
J. Northmore, recording secretary.
M. Y. Hansen, treasurer
M. Leixner, J. Weiss, trustees.
Mrs. Hansen, sergeant-at-arms.

The officers will be installed the first Tuesday in July, which will be made a night of entertainment, lots to eat, with a variety of speeches.

Real estate is looking up here. M. Bock has sold his beautiful hillside residence to Mr. and Mrs. Christian Walthers, of San Francisco, who after having visited the various springs throughout the state, decided that the Valley of the Moon was an ideal place for a home. Not to be outdone, Jack Mueller sold his residence on Hillside avenue to Mrs. Alice Wood, who proposes to reside here permanently, as she is satisfied the climate coupled with the medicinal springs is more conducive to health than any other place she has been so far. Mrs. Wood's daughter, Miss Hall, is connected with the public schools of Vallejo, and proposes to visit over week ends with her mother.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold a general meeting Monday evening, June 23rd, at 8 o'clock, to ratify the by-laws. A large attendance is anticipated, not only of present members, but also prospective members. If you are looking for the betterment of the valley, send in your application at once or advise the secretary at Fetters Springs and he will arrange to call on you.

LEGAL TALENT IN GOAT CASE

It takes a goat to start something in Sonoma. The peaceful village of El Verano which was stirred to its depths some weeks ago by the shooting of a nanny goat which trespassed on the premises of a property owner there had its climax here Monday when F. Jensen, the man who got the goat of the village barber, John Basileu, was up for trial. Judge Justi, dignified jurist from Glen Ellen, held court in Sonoma's city hall and a crowded court room was electrified by a battery of legal talent which would have done credit to a Teapot Dome inquiry. The defendant, Jensen, was represented by A. R. Grinstead, Sonoma's brilliant young attorney, while Attorney Frank Sprague, seasoned legal light and former state senator, plead the cause of John Basileu, bereaved of a pet which was peacefully pursuing the pastime of pasturing on the premises of the person responsible for his demise. Judge Justi qualified as an authority on goats and their ways, weighed the evidence and after Jensen plead guilty on advice of his attorney, Mr. Grinstead, the court suspended sentence.

LARGE ESTATE DISTRIBUTED

The $121,000 estate of Mrs. Annie Mellon, formerly of Boyes Springs, who died in London two years ago, and who willed $1000 to two of her cats, was distributed Wednesday by Superior Judge Graham of San Francisco. Under the distribution Charles L. Wyant, a brother, who contested the will, was given $19,000 under the terms of a private settlement. "Teddie," one of the cats, which is 17 years old, was given $100 a year instead of the flat reward of $100. "Beppo," the other cat, is dead.

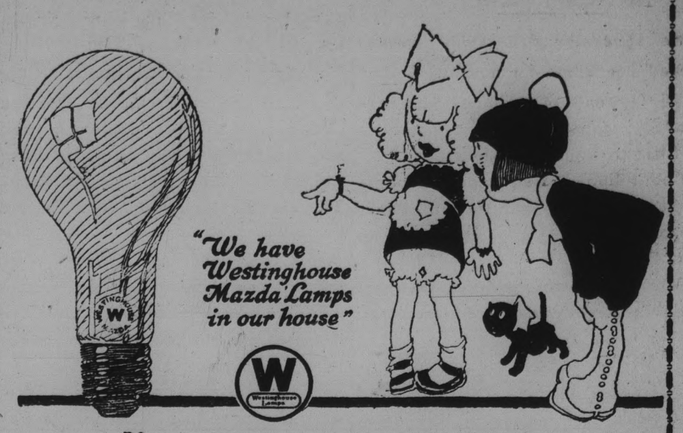

The balance of the estate was distributed among relatives.

EL VERANO NEWS

Anne Dowdall, of Berkeley, accompanied her home for a visit.

Ed Dowdall of Alameda was here Monday, stopping on his way to Santa Rosa to transact business.

Bob Filippini, well known Sonoma Valley shiek, has returned to Paul's Resort, after a sight seeing trip to San Francisco.

Mrs. W. Preston, who has been visiting in San Francisco, has returned to her home here.

L. Mouyer, real estate men of Verano, made a business trip to Oakland last week.

Deputy Sheriff and Fish Commissioner Lencioni of Santa Rosa was a visitor in El Verano recently.

John Angeles, accompanied by a friend, was here last week, looking over local business, with the intention of buying here. Mr. Angeles is a San Francisco hotel owner, and was formerly in the ice cream business in Sonoma Valley. He now resides in San Francisco.

A fire broke out Saturday morning in one of the Del Buono chicken houses, west of town. John Dowdall and Ben Streeter, who happened along sighted the blaze and gave the alarm. The Del Buono family, with the aid of buckets and wet sacks soon succeeded in smothering the flames which did little damage.

Mr. and Mrs. M. Fish and family of Alameda are at their summer cottage here or several weeks.

Louis Kearney and Dave Forni were on the rolling sea at Bodega bay last week in quest of finny beauties.

An auto accident, in which a Ford delivery and a car driven by a Santa Rosa resident, said to be from the office of the district attorney, came together, occurred near the Villa Saturday. The Santa Rosa car, badly damaged, was put in a local garage for repairs. Vareless driving is said to be responsible for the collision.

Bob Dickson, chief deputy under Sheriff Boyes, was here last Friday from Santa Rosa on official business. and serving jury summons.

Mrs. Flanagan and daughter of San Francisco are vacationing at Boyes Springs, where they have a cottage.

The ware house of Fred Batto & Sons has recently been decorated with the firm's name, which shows up well on the large building.

Mrs. H. E. McNeil, who resides in one of the West cottages in Sonoma Vista, had the misfortune one day last week to drop a tub of ice on her foot. cutting off one of her toes. The patient, under the care of Dr. A. M. Thomson, is now doing nicely.

Joe O'Donahue, San Francisco soft drink king, has been the guest at the Helvetia Hotel for several days.

John Larson, the village fisherman, has been enjoying an outing at Napa Bridge for the benefit of his health. John, who is one of our crack anglers, always remembers the writer with a fish when he returns with a good catch.

Died, in Oakland, June 11, Agnes Merz, widow of the late John Merz, and mother of Mrs. M. H. Rollins and Mrs. W. Ottman of Oakland; Mrs. O. B Sutherland and Gus and M J. Merz of El Verano. Deceased was 72 years of age and was a native of Germany. The Merz and Sutherland families attended the uneral last Friday in Oakland.

Mrs. Dr. Lee, who has been visiting in Sonoma Vista for several days, has returned to her San Francisco home.

Mrs. R. Lippi and daughter, Miss Olga, who both underwent an operation for appendicitis last week in San Francisco, have come to spend the summer months at their cottage in Verano, to recuperate and enjoy the Valley of the Moon climate. Their many friends welcome them back and hope for their speedy recovery.

Edmond Debats, the El Verano song bird who recently returned to his old home town, is receiving a great ovation. At the El Verano Villa on Saturday evening Edmond was all blackened up and his impersonation of a coon drew down the house, especially his song, "Old Black Joe." George Cavaglia, leading Valley of the Moon Beau Brummel, all done up in his Tuxedo suit, presented the El Verano star with a bouquet of flowers and it is rumored that an agreement is being drawn up by which George will take over the El Verano diva, and present him in towns over the state. Needless to say, a pair like George and Edmond, traveling as partners, should bring in the jack. Cavaglia's aim in this life is to get in the movies, and with Debats the picture would be worth a million.

Hugh Chance of Sacramento, accompanied by his wife, were here on Sunday visiting relatives. Hugh, a former El Verano boy, is now a paint contractor in the big city. He purchased a Chevrolet car from the Norrbom agency while here and returned home in the new road hound.

Save your money, boys. The S. P. Company is cutting down expenses. Orders reached El Verano Saturday to lay off the painters working at the local depot and Jim Harrington's section crew, every Saturday, until further notice, which looks like hard times are hitting the big corporation. Section Foreman Harrington, on the lay-off day, will hold down the responsible position of track walker.

Joe White of Los Angeles, accompanied by Jack Main, ran into a car from Glen Ellen last Saturday while taking the turn near the Pioneer Garage. Both cars were badly damaged and it looks like both drivers were t fault and should study the book of rules before trying to drive on the streets of this city.

The placing of an old auto tire on the railroad track by local school children, caused great excitement in the old town one day last week. The freight train, which was switching cars at the time, was nearly derailed by the pranks of the children. When the engine hit the rubber it slid for some distance and if it had not been backing up at a slow rate of speed, undoubtedly would have been derailed. Head Brakeman Summers captured the guilty one, who, after some pleading, was allowed to go. This is a serious offense and parents should see that the little ones are kept away from the railroad track. Too many kids, both human and animal, have got the old city upset by their different mischevious acts.

Billy Brannon, famous for his win over Ah Wing, Chinese champion, is at Verano with a staff of young aspirants for pugilistic honors. Brannon has now become a manager and his knowledge, both as a ring man and trainer, should be of great help to the young men. Eddie Carey, Paddy Mullens, and young Jimmie Clabby of North Beach, are at the Parente gym and the wide awake little Italian manager has mapped out daily workouts that will bring results for the young athletes. We may add that Brannon's many El Verano friends are glad to see him looking hale and hearty after a cruise over the rolling seas. The conqueror of the Chinaman received a great ovation at his stops in different foreign ports, especially in China, where the famous defeated Chinese fighter greeted Billy and fed him on chop suey and noodles which accounts for his robust and healthful appearance. Ah Wing's hospitality to the American champ was great and he went so far as to have a Chinese maid propose to Bill before he left the Orient.

The old city, 100 per cent American, had Old Glory proudly floating last Saturday over the post office and private homes, in honor of Flag Day, and also on Tuesday, Bunker Hill day

Mr. and Mrs. Castro, nee Thomas, of San Francisco, are enjoying a few weeks at their summer cottage on Nob Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. P. Millitello of Oakland were Sonoma Valley visitors at the Sutter home over Sunday.

Mrs. Laura Stanley, accompanied by Miss Lillian Parente and other friends, motored to Verano from San Francisco Saturday, being guests of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Parente.

SONOMA COUNTY PIONEER PASSES

George Alexander Hocker, aged 87, one of Sonoma county's best known pioneers, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Willard Sanford, in Hall district, Santa Rosa, following a long illness.

Hocker is survived by a widow, two daughters, Mrs. Sanford and Mrs. Alice Lindsley of San Francisco; two sons, Morton, of San Francisco, and Will of Ohio; 11 grand children and six great grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted at Lazenby's funeral parlors in Santa Rosa Monday afternoon with interment in the old family plot in Ukiah.

Real Folks

of flesh and blood

Operate P·G·and E·

THINK of yourself—of your ambitions, sorrows, triumphs. Bear in mind your worthy desire to be successful—to provide a home—to care for your dependents. Consider the work you do—your impatience with petty interference—your craving for proper appreciation.

Then remember that the P G and E is operated by approximately 8,500 men and women who share with you the same human trials and ambitions.

Some of these folks may be your old schoolmates. Others are no doubt your present neighbors and friends. If you are in business, many are your customers. Practically all pay taxes and otherwise help you defray governmental expenses.

These people are efficient, progressive, loyal. Their initiative is not smothered by "political preferment," which so often impedes the deserved advancement of others engaged in "public service" work.

To compare these folks with yourself —to concede they are human—will aid you in thinking of this Company as the live-and-help live organization that it is.

DRY AGENT TOOK TEN THOUSAND DOLLARS

George H. Crawford, former prohibition agent, was found guilty by a federal jury in San Francisco a few days ago of accepting a $10,000 bribe from Eduardo Sighesio, Sonoma county vineyardist, for prohibition protection.

The penalty limit is three years in the penitentiary and a fine of $10,000.

The final session of this dramatic trial, involving Crawford and two other former prohibition agents, Henry W. Meyers and Waldo W. Curtis, now fugitives from justice, was marked by Crawford's contention that he accepted the money to tempt the owners of the Sighesio winery into a huge plot to flood San Francisco with Sonoma county wine.

Crawford's attorney, Robert McMillan, announced after the verdict, that the case would be appealed.

There will be litigation over the ownership of the $10,000 bribe money which was exhibited in the court as evidence, according to the principals on both sides of the case. Solution will depend upon the decision as to whether the money was extorted or a voluntary bribe, attorneys said.

Sighesio declared that the money was extorted from him, but the verdict of the federal court appears to consider it is a bribe. In the latter case the money belongs to Crawford, Meyers and Curtis.

Indictment of the agents followed the disclosure of purchase by them of 200 gallons of wine from the owners of the Sighesio winery at Cloverdale at 4 a. m. on the morning of September 11, 1922, and then, it is alleged, they took $10,000 to "protect" huge wine shipments to San Francisco, according to the testimony of Eduardo Sighesio, owner of the winery, and his son- in-laww, Enrico Prati, who lives on the Sighesio ranch.

The day following the transaction with the officers Pratti told Attorney Wallace Ware of Santa Rosa of the proceedings, who informed the United States intelligence officers in San Francisco. Meyers and Curtis fled, leaving Crawford alone to answer the charges.

George W. Poultney, bail bond agent for Pete McDonough, admitted on the witness stand that he had tipped off Crawford in 1922 that he was being investigated by federal intelligence agents.

VISITOR HERE FROM ILLINOIS

Mrs. Charles Helmick of Litchfield, Illinois, is here on a visit to her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. F. Edrington. She is a sister of Mr. Edrington, and is making her first visit to California. The Edrington's met her at Sacramento with their car and motored to Sonoma Valley, which has already charmed the visitor. A trip to San Jose and Santa Cruz is contemplated in order to give Mrs. Helmick an opportunity to see more of our Golden State.

A TREAT IN STORE

In the near future the Sonoma people will have the good fortune of once more hearing Charles Bowman Hutchins, "the bird man," who gave one or two recitals in Sonoma several years ago. Since then Mr. Hutchins has traveled the length and breadth of the United States several times, thrilling immense audiences with his marvelous imitations of bird songs, and clever color sketches of our feathered friends. With Mr. Hutchins comes his talented wife, Helen Owens Hutchins, clever harpist and soprano. It is through the personal friendship of Mr. Hutchins for Mrs. Carrie Burlingame that his services are secured for Sonoma. The proceeds of a matinee for children at 3 p. m., and an evening programme for adults will go to help the building fund of the Congregational church. Don't for get the time and place, June 24th, at the Woman's Club House, Sonoma.

WILLIAM GREEN WAS BURIED HERE

William Green, son of a former sea captain, the late Captain William Green of the Embarcadero, and an old Sonoma boy, was buried here last Saturday. He was a brother of Louis Green, prominent Sonoma resident and of Mrs. J. Lund of San Francisco. He is survived by one daugghter, Essie Green. Interment was in the Catholic cemetery, where his wife, Nellie Glynn Green, daughter of a pioneer Sonoma family, is also buried.

A number of old time friends gathered with relatives of deceased for the last sad rites. Services at St. Francis church preceded the journey to the cemetery.

Deceased was 63 years of age.

Manuel Pastro, prominent in dairy circles of Alameda county, was in Sonoma this week prior to leaving for a trip East. Pastro formerly visited the Tony Petersons here. Mr. Peterson died a year ago and his wife is also now in frail health. They were former well known musicians of Sonoma.
